

Full-service convenience and top operative services

We make things simple for our customers. That is our philosophy. This is why our customers' satisfaction is an important matter for us as a leading convenience trader. We offer them the unique combination of wholesale trade and logistics coupled with a wide range of retail services. In this way, we are the full-service specialist for all sales channels in the convenience area. We as a European enterprise stake on both international standards and also on regional flexibility: Lekkerland is consistently aligned to its customers' wishes. As a part of the value added chain, we set standards not only in the ranges, but also in logistics and IT for our internationally active large-scale customers in the significant European countries. At the same time, Lekkerland offers its many thousands of independent local and national customers in the individual countries a flexible partnership. We fulfil their wish for comfort, reliability and speed and serve them on the highest quality level aligned to international standards.
